Pure Religion

The Bible defines pure religion, according to James, 1:27: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

We have seen the Flag floating in front of the po remember it on many a Fourth of July picnic in the l ed. Today it is fiercely and proudly at war.

Now many of us are really seeing it for the first ti denly, it has become the most precious thing in the in our throat and we cannot speak because we love it

Only now are we beginning to know the tremendous task befo us. We watch dear friends depart and we know that some of the faces we shall never see again. We know the price we shall pay wrecked bodies, in silent grief and in gold stars. It makes no d ference. We are ready.

Through our long years of dream and illusion we had alm forgotten our beginnings and what it means to be free. Our herita lay neglected while we followed false prophets and feared lit fears. Only yesterday we cherished ease above liberty; only yest day we felt ourselves divided on little things.

Today we stand united against the common enemy who wo destroy us all.

We know now what we never knew in the days of our illusi

"Jack" Anderson Seeks Return

Representative John Z. Anderson, San Mateo county's representative in the Congress of the United States for the past four years, today announced from Washington that he will be a candidate to succeed himself at the August 25 Primary election. He added he will seek both Democrat and Republican nominations.

In his announcement today Anderson explained it seemed now to be impossible for him to return home for a personal campaign, and appealed to the people of the Eighth Congressional district to carry on for him while he remains at his post in Washington. He said if it was possible for him to get home for a short time during the campaign, it certainly would not be under circumstances that would force him to sacrifice his duty for political work. The member of Congress explained the House undoubtedly will be in almost continuous session, and he considers the Washington front one of the most important in the war, and said to shirk it for political endeavor would not be in keeping with what Americans have a right to expect of their representatives in these critical times.

In his appeal for his constituents here to carry on during his absence, Anderson pointed briefly to his achievements since he became this county's member of Congress some four years ago.

Anderson declared that so far as he is concerned party lines are not considered in the nation's war effort. "In my opinion," he said, "any member of Congress who would permit himself to be guided by political motives during such an emergency as this is not worthy of the position he occupies, nor loyal to the great trust reposed in him."

Anderson declared he considered one of his greatest victories the movement to launch the development of guayule rubber production in his district, and points out that had a more kindly ear been given his proposal when he first offered it some two years ago, America's critical rubber problem of today could have been greatly eased. Another of the measures he sponsored and cites as imperative to national defense is the federalized home defense. Back in 1940, he declares, he fought valiantly to have this measure accepted, but was stymied once again. He claims such an organization now could be relieving thousands of younger men for duty with the combat forces.

As a member of the House Naval Affairs committee, Anderson has been active in the building of American Naval strength. He cites many missions he has carried out in this capacity to America's naval outposts, and points to the fact that he strongly advocated the fortification of Guam. The record shows he waged a valiant fight when the nation was selling millions of tons of scrap iron to the Japanese, to stop this export and have the material impounded for home uses. It wasn't done soon enough, he declared, pointing out we got a lot of it back at Pearl Harbor.

In the field of labor operations, Anderson declared he believed in fair and just treatment of labor, and every opportunity for its advancement.

The securing of the $16,000,000 laboratory at Moffat field, the cadet training school at Coyote Point in San Mateo county, the Naval airport in Hollister, funds for the study of flood control throughout his district are some of the other achievements attributed to Anderson, whose work in Congress has won him high praise from prominent residents of the district, regardless of political faith.

In closing Anderson expressed pride in his record in Congress, and said that always his vote on every issue was motivated by what he believed to be the very best interests of the entire nation, and his district. He paid tribute to the thousands of letters he has received from constituents, and said he had endeavored to answer each personally. "I believe," Anderson explained, "that the representative in Congress, who best represents the interests of his people back home, is the representative who keeps in close touch with them. I always have done so, and I always will."

What To Do In A Gas Attack

(This has been approved by the Medical Division of the United States Office of Civilian Defense)

1. Serious injury may result from exposure to liquid gas which may fall from airplanes. It is, therefore, imperative to remain indoors and keep the windows closed.
2. War gases are heavier than air. If you are inside a building remain there, and, if possible, go upstairs. Do not complicate the military effort by leaving your house unless circumstances make it absolutely necessary. If you are outside and not able to immediately go indoors walk—do not run—get out of the gas area. Avoid puddles of liquid gas, basements, valleys and other low places.
3. If the windows of your room are broken, go to another room, or get out of the building.
4. If you have been exposed to a war gas—
   a. Breathe through cloths wet with baking soda solution.
   b. If you can go inside a building, do so, but first remove your outer clothing and leave it outside.
   c. Wash your hands and then your face with laundry soap and water.
   d. Wash your eyes at once with a large amount of a solution of baking soda; one teaspoon of baking soda in a glass of water.
   e. Take a bath using plenty of laundry soap.
   f. Wash your eyes again with baking soda solution.
5. If splashes of liquid gas have gotten on you—
   a. Using small pieces of cloth, cleansing tissue or toilet paper, blot up as much of the liquid as you can, being careful not to spread it.
   b. Daub the contaminated area with cloths wet with Clorox, Purex, Sani-Clor, etc.
   c. Steps b, c, d, e, and f in 4 above.
6. Do not get excited. Lie down and cover yourself with a blanket. Your Air Raid Warden will summon medical aid.

THERE IS NO IMMEDIATE SERIOUS DANGER FROM EXPOSURE TO ANY KNOWN WAR GAS IF YOU FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES. CLIP THEM AND MEMORIZE THEM.

Leather Storm Boots

To keep leather storm boots in good condition, the National Bureau of Standards says that leather boots should be periodically dressed with neatsfoot oil or other recommended water-repellent dressings.

Scones — Not From Scotland

By Frances Lee Barton

Ye olde time scone was Scotch to the core — as Scotch as the tartan, the plaid and porridge.

But here's a scone that is completely "New World" except for the Scotch economy that may be seen by a casual reading of the constituents required. And like any food that has even a wee hint of Scotland, this scone is delicious:

Chocolate Cream Scones

1 cup sifted cake flour; 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder; 3 tablespoons sugar; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup light cream or top milk; 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar, and salt, and sift again. Add cream and stir until all flour is dampened; then add chocolate and stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Divide dough in 3 parts; roll each into a ball, pat ½ inch thick, and cut across to make 4 triangular scones. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven (425° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. When nearly done, brush tops lightly with mixture of equal parts of sugar and milk, and finish baking. Makes 12 scones.

Paprika

Paprika is rich in food value, containing vitamin C.

CONGRESSMAN ANDERSON WRITES HOME

JOHN Z. ANDERSON
Eighth District, California

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C. June 2, 1942

To My Friends In The Eighth Congressional District:

It is not necessary for me to remind you we are at war, and in view of this fact everyone is expected to do the utmost to help achieve victory at the earliest possible date.

In keeping with this principle the Congress has been in session ever since that fateful December 7, when an apparently friendly nation turned traitorously to aggression and sought to rob us of everything that has made America great. What has happened since, is more or less history, but none will deny the need for vigilance on every front.

August 25 you in my district will elect your representative in Congress. For the past four years I have been your representative, and it has given me honor, privilege and pleasure to serve you here. During the coming months a campaign will be waged for the post I hold, and nothing would give me greater pleasure than to come home and meet with all of you once again. However, if I am to be loyal to you and to the United States I cannot leave my post to make a campaign among you, because if I did I would be sacrificing the very principles for which we are fighting.

So, I must rely upon you at home to carry on for me during this campaign, because whether I win or lose, I cannot in all sincerity place politics before patriotism and duty, and the trust you have placed in me in guarding your freedom and liberty is too great to sacrifice for political ambition. Politically speaking this may seem a foolhardy decision, but whatever it seems from a political standpoint, I believe it is the thing you have the right to expect me to do. We are faced with the salvation of those principles which include your right to have in the Congress the representative of your own choosing.

So, unless there is some now unforeseen opportunity, I must leave my campaign and my re-election as your representative here to those of you who believe with me that this is no time to sacrifice duty to political endeavor. In doing so I am not afraid, because in my heart I am convinced where my duty lies, and I know that you, my good American friends, agree with me. Whatever the outcome I will always be grateful for this opportunity you have given me to serve.

My deep appreciation and profound gratitude for the high trust you have reposed in me, and, believe me, your wellbeing and your interests shall ever be my first consideration, whether I be your representative in Congress, or just your neighbor in the Eighth Congressional district.

Very sincerely yours,

John Z. Anderson

Part For Victory?

lag and All It Stands For tched our boys and girls pledge it allegiance. We ur peaceful yesterdays we have taken it for grant-

w that we may lose all it has ever stood for; sudit goes, fluttering over the khaki lines. A lump gets his last great test had to come. Long ago it was written hose who would keep their freedom must ever stand ready for it, and that some day the battle must be joined. Such, or later, has been the destiny of every free people and it o much to hope that with us it could have been otherwise.

ow have come the days of grim decision. They are also days
e. Once more the faith and idealism of our fathers are work-our hearts. Once more we march with our brothers of Bunker nd Valley Forge, of Gettysburg and the Argonne.
nce more the Flag moves forward, hope of the world, light of

Pound of Feathers

There is considerable difference in weight between a pound of gold and a pound of feathers. Gold is weighed by the troy system, in which there are 12 ounces to the pound, while feathers are weighed by the avoirdupois measure, in which there are 16 ounces to the pound. A troy pound, therefore, is less than the avoirdupois pound.

In the Wright Cyclone G-200 engine there are 5,497 parts, according to Guy W. Vaughan, president of the Curtiss-Wright corporation.

Bohemian Ruby

Bohemian ruby is a jeweler's name for rose quartz when cut as a gem.

Mount Rainier

Mount Rainier, in Washington state, was named after the British admiral, Peter Rainier, who figured in the American Revolution. The name was bestowed by Capt. George Vancouver, English navigator and explorer, in 1792.

Cigar Capital of World

Tampa, Fla., is called the cigar capital of the world. The Cuban section of the city is lined with shops and cigar factories, and over 1,500,000 Havana cigars are made daily.

An Apple a Day—

Every day eat an apple, a hard carrot or a stalk of celery and it will act as efficiently for cleansing the teeth as a brush and tooth paste, a California physician recommends.
